

Sally McLennane – Pogues - V1

[Intro]
[G] [D] [A] [D]

[Verse]
Well [D] Jimmy played harmonica in the [G] pub where I was [D] born
He played it from the night-time to the [G] peaceful early [A] morn
He [G] soothed souls of [D] psychos and the [A] men who had the horn and they [D] all looked very [G] happy in the [A] morn-[D]ing

[Verse]
But [D] Jimmy didn't like his place [G] in this world of [D] ours Where the elephant man broke strong men's necks [G] when he'd had too many [A] powers
So [G] sad to see the [D] grieving of the [A] people he was leaving
And he [D] took the road for [G] god knows in the [A] morn-[D]ing

[Chorus]
We [D] walked him to the [G] station in the [D] rain
We [D] kissed him as we [G] put him on the [A] train
And we [G] sang him a [D] song of [A] times long [G] gone
though we [D] knew that we'd be [A] seeing him a-[D]gain [D] Sad to say I must be on my way
so [G] buy me beer and [D] whiskey 'cause I'm [A] going far away [D] I'd like to think I'll be returning when I can
to the [G] greatest little [D] boozier and to [A] Sally McLen-[D]nane

[G] [D] [A] [D]

[Verse]
The [D] years passed by the times had changed I [G] grew to be a [D] man
I learned to love the virtues of sweet [G] Sally McLen-[A]nane
I [G] took the jeers and [D] drank the beers and I [A] crawled back home at dawn
And I [D] ended up a [G] barman in the [A] mor-[D]ning

[Verse]
I [D] played the pump and took the hump and [G] watered whiskey [D] down
I talked of whores and horses to the [G] men who drank the [A] brown
I [G] heard them say that [D] Jimmy's making [A] money far away
Some [D] people left for [G] heaven without [A] war-[D]ning

[Chorus]

We [D] walked him to the [G] station in the [D] rain
We [D] kissed him as we [G] put him on the [A] train
And we [G] sang him a [D] song of [A] times long [G] gone
though we [D] knew that we'd be [A] seeing him a[D]gain [D] Sad to say I must be on my way
so [G] buy me beer and [D] whiskey 'cause I'm [A] going far away [D] I'd like to think I'll be returning when I can
to the [G] greatest little [D] boozier and to [A] Sally McLen-[D]nane

[G] [D] [A] [D]

[Verse]

When [D] Jimmy came back home again he was [G] surprised that they were [D] gone
He asked me all the details of the [G] train that they went [A] on Some [G] people they are [D] scared to croak but Jimmy drank until [A] he choked
And he [D] took the road for [G] heaven in the [A] mor-[D]ning

[Chorus]

We [D] walked him to the [G] station in the [D] rain
We [D] kissed him as we [G] put him on the [A] train
And we [G] sang him a [D] song of [A] times long [G] gone
though we [D] knew that we'd be [A] seeing him a[D]gain [D] Sad to say I must be on my way
so [G] buy me beer and [D] whiskey 'cause I'm [A] going far away [D] I'd like to think I'll be returning when I can
to the [G] greatest little [D] boozier and to [A] Sally McLen-[D]nane

[G] [D] [A] [D]
